COF200: Colombian Excelso Narino EP

Sweet and spicy - jammy, fig notes - very smooth. Nice caramel and a clean finish. Med+ brightness, full bodied.

Cupping/Tasting Notes:

The aroma displays a nice spiciness, and a strong but focused fruit profile. The flavor follows, with fruitiness combining nicely with the acidity. Great caramel notes, slightly sweet taste. This coffee finishes very clean. Very full bodied and med+ brightness really make this a smooth cup.

Roasting Notes:

This is really a great Colombian bean. I like it at a light roast where the full complexity will come out - but it is a bit bright. Darker roasts will help to bring out caramel and chocolate.
