

1

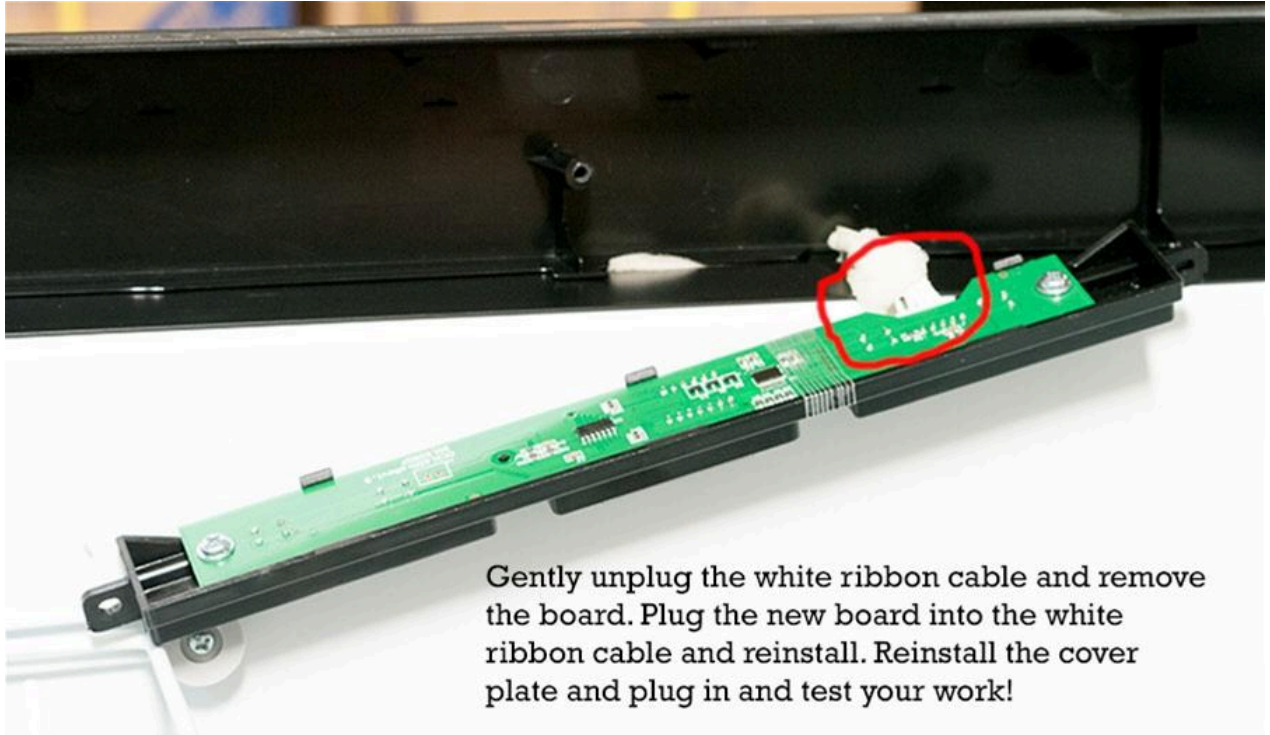

First, unplug the unit and open the door and look straight up at the three phillips screws holding the Control Board cover. Remove these three screws and lower the flexible plastic cover.

2

Now you will see the Kegerator Control board secured with two phillips screws. Remove these and pull the board down gently.

3

4

